

Dr. Catherine O'Brien (she/her/hers)

Texas A&M University San Antonio

“Dr. Cat” has worked in the field of early childhood education for over 25 years in various roles. Currently, she is the Director of Campus Childcare and faculty in the Department of Educator and Leadership Preparation, Early Childhood Program at Texas A&M University San Antonio. She is the mother of 5 adult children, and a lover of nature and play. Holding a BA in ECE and Business Administration, MA in Education specializing in Early Childhood, and an Ed.D. in Teaching and Learning, Catherine is also a lifelong learner, passionate about supporting educators, families, and young children to reach their full potential.

Dr. Cat works to create a sense of community in the learning environment that is co-created with students. Like Loris Malaguzzi, Dr. Cat has cultivated the Image of the Child into her teaching philosophy on students and truly believes that every student is a capable, competent, individual that has 100 languages more to express themselves (Edwards, Gandini & Forman, 2012).

Dr. Cat’s most recent passion is advocating for the rights of children including the right to play, the right to high quality education, and the right to safe and healthy environments to grow and develop.
